In general, it's better to use a 64-bit version of Autodesk software than a 32-bit one. Microsoft Windows related features can often not work on 32-bit OS. Try to use 64-bit version, or just use 64-bit compiler for all projects. 32-bit Autodesk products cost less, and the difference between their 32-bit and 64-bit versions may not be significant. Besides, 32-bit software can run on a 64-bit OS, and use additional RAM and CPU resources. For these reasons, one should always use the 64-bit version.
